INTERCEPTION OF COMMUNICATIONS

Synapsis:

Northrop Corporation President THOMAS VICTOR JONES interviewed concerning his contribution to the Cormittee to Reelect the President, he contended that the amount he gave HEBBERT ALLIBACH was $50,000 rather than $75,000 as KALMBACH contends. JONES furnished names of three Northrop Vice Presidents who also donated funds to the Committee. Those Vice Presidents are JAMES D. WILLSON, JAMES ALLEN, and FRANK WOODROW LLOYD, and they also were interviewed. All three Vice Presidents advised they donated funds with no promise of reimbursement, and all three furnished documents relating to their contributions. Summa Corporation Executive Vice President FRANK WILLIAM GAY interviewed concerning proposed plan in February 1972 to "go into the GREENSPUN's safe" in Las Vegas, Nevada. GAY advised he was completely opposed to the plan, and he told that to RALPH H. WINTE, company security officer, at the time. WINTE identified photograph of E. HOWARD HUNT as the man who proposed the plan to him.

GAY was asked if he discussed this proposal with any other individuals. GAY recalled that he may have contacted Corporate Counsel CHESTED DAVIS of the New York Law Firm of Davis-and Cox. GAY, further pointed out that the COX-of the firm Davis-and Cox, is MAXWELL COX, brother of Special Prosecutor ARCHIBALD COX. GAY further went on to state that the west coast representative of the Dayis and Cox Firm is D. MARTIN COOK, who has offices at Century City, Los Angeles, California. GAY was asked if he had ever been contacted by MAURICE STANS or HERBERT W. KAIMBACH. or any of their representatives on the Finance Committee to Re-Elect the President. GAY stated that he has not been contacted by any of those individuals. GAY states that he has not made any contributions to the 1972 Presidential Campaign. He further advised that the Summa Corporation has a contribution committee which has as its chairman NADINE HENLEY, who decides where contributions go. GAY advized that he has never contributed to the contribution committee and he believes that the only contributor is HOWARD HUGHES. GAY recalls that Summa Corporation retains a Washington, D. C. lobbyist by the name of BOB SENNETT. who handles delicate matters pertaining to contributions in the Washington, D. C. area: GAY states that BENNETT is an "old Salt Lake boy" and believes that BENNETT is completely honest. GAY recalls that BENNETT may have contacted him pertaining to donations, however, he believes that he may have directed BENNET to NADINE HENLEY and the contributions committee.

GAY advised that RALPH F. WINTE reports directly to him and as such WINTE's title is Director of Internal Systems and Service Audit. GAY states that WINTE's responsibilities are to maintain hotel and casino security in the Las Vegas, Nevada, enterprises. By that, GAY said he meant Mafia activities and individuals who would cheat at the gambling operations. In addition, WINTE was responsible for internal security of the Summa Corporation. GAY states that WINTE has authority to hire and fire individuals in his security and service division.

derive that." The President said, "You mean is he going to blow the White House on the —," and Ehrlichman said, "I couldn't get that at all." The President said he assumed the U. S. Attorney would not be pressing on "that." Ehrlichman said McCord volunteered this Hank Greenspun thing. The President asked if that was a serious thing, "Did they really try to get into Hank Greenspun." Ehrlichman said, "I guess they actually got in," to which the President responded, "What in the name of (expletive deleted) though, has Hank Greenspun got with anything to do with Mitchell or anybody else?" Ehrlichman said, "Nothing. Well, now, Mithcell [sic]. Here's — Hughes. And these two fellows, Colson and Shapiro, Colson threw that out."

The President said, "Hughes on whom," and Ehrlichman said the Hughes thing is cut into two factions, which were fighting. The President said, "Yeah," to which Ehrlichman said Senator Bennett's son for whom Hunt worked represents one of those factions. The President said, "So he ordered the bugging?" and Ehrlichman said, "I don't know. I know the (unintelligible) say it's a bag job." (pp. 18-19) Haldeman said, "They busted his safe to get something out of it. Wasn't that it?" Ehrlichman said, "No. They flew out, broke his safe, got something out (unintelligible)," and "[n]ow as they sat there in my office --." (p. 19) The President said, "Other delicate things, too. You've got apart from my from my poor brother, which unfortunately or fortunately was a long time ago but, more recently, you've got Hubert Humphrey's son works for him and, of course, they're tied in with O'Brien I suppose. But maybe they were trying to get it for that reason." (p. 19) Ehrlichman said he didn't know why, but that Shapiro and Colson didn't know anything about it. Ehrlichman said, "They said, one said to the other,
